Small scale farmers learned farming irrigation fed technologies like pit holes, etc.

SAFI project in Uganda.

SAFI means Sustainable agriculture farmers initiative.

The project is a Baptist Union of Uganda project, run in partnership with Hope Community Gracious Foundation and funded by Operation Agri Trust in UK to equip small scale famers with new farming capacity, farming skills, technologies, and practices of Climate smart Agriculture – (CSA.) The project targets poor small scale farmers (SSFs) in rural communities to reduce poverty, to increase food security and to enable resilience to climate change by farmers.

Alice has been one of the first beneficiaries started in 2014 before she was enrolled in the SAFI project she and her husband had nothing on the farm. Now they have planted 8 acres of tree, four acres of banana and have began a Piggery farm which gives them the manure for the bananas.

And she used donkeys to transport farm water, produce, manure etc.

We are so thankful for your prayers, love and support to enable these activities to go on. Thank you so much.
